

Two Crops Average Over $73 at Madison

Records Still Being Smashed Richmond Breaks and End Is Not Yet In Sight.

Prices kept climbing at the old reliable Madison House when the buyers reached its heavily laden floors again late yesterday afternoon. Just where the figures are going to stop is hard to tell. Elmer Deatherage who is boosting as never before, says the sky is the limit and he expects to go right to the limit if the farmers will only continue to bring in the right kind of tobacco.

Shugars Loses Home In Casey With No Insurance

The residence of W. K. Shugars, brother of the Misses Shugars, of this city, was destroyed by fire on his farm a mile out of Liberty, Casey county, early Monday morning, with a loss of from $5,000 to $6,000 as he carried no insurance of any sort. Mr. Shugars is in Richmond with his sisters, and says that all he saved from the building was the suit of corduroy working clothes that he had on.

Mrs. Shugars was in Richmond at the time. Mr. Shugars went to the barn at 6:30 Monday morning to milk, and while he was away the house caught fire. He thinks that broken stove pipe caused the fire to catch in the roof. When he noticed the blaze it had gained considerable headway. He rushed to it and endeavored to save some clothes, but was almost suffocated and had to get out quickly to save his life. He then had to stand by helplessly, and see his home, all furniture and all the family's wearing apparel go up in flames. Mr. Shugars went to McKinney, where he obtained some clothes, and came on to Richmond with the bad news for his wife. The home had been refitted by Mr. and Mrs. Shugars a few weeks ago when they moved to the farm, after he sold out his drug store in Stanford.

Never take chances. Let L. P. Evans, the insurance man of Richmond, keep your property protected with one of his reliable policies and you're always protected from fire at any time.

Dr. Phelps Buys Out Dr. Jeffries At Union

Union City, Jan. 22.

Dr. J. H. Jeffries has sold his property here to Dr. R. M. Phelps, of Red House, and on March 1st, will move to Richmond. We regret very much the loss of this well known and popular family but wish them every future opportunity. However, we are glad to say that Dr. Phelps is already known to some of the practice here and comes otherwise well recommended. He hails from Madison county pioneer stock and its needless to say that we extend to him and his family a very cordial welcome.

Mr. Turner Taylor, of Arrowsmith, Ill., is visiting his mother, Mrs. Margaret Taylor. It will be remembered that Mrs. Taylor sustained a broken hip sometime ago. She is improving slowly and we hope soon to see her out again.

Mr. Wm. Dunbar will now answer telephone No. 2405.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Bonny, of McLean, Ill., are guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Louisa Ford.

Miss Frances Hefflin of Winchester, arrived Monday from Georgetown, where she is teaching, having been summoned to the bedside of her little niece, Dorothy Harris, who succumbed soon afterwards.

Miss Nannie Baber, who has been on the sick list for some time, is reported no better.

Mrs. Margaret Noland remains quite ill at her home on Muddy Creek. Owing to her advanced age, but little hope is held out for her complete recovery.

Mr. William Dunbar moved Monday to his farm purchased from Mr. Arch Dunn. Mr. Dunn also moved the same day to his place at Blue Grass, purchased sometime ago from Mr. L. W. Minter.

Rev. C. T. Brookshire, now of Charleston, W. Va., made a rushing trip to Union City Saturday to conduct the funeral at the burial of Oscar Parks. His old neighbors were glad to see him. He stated that on account of the absence in the army of Mr. Owens of the firm of Owens and Bark, Charleston undertakers, he had been doing the embalming and that since September 1st, his firm had handled 750 bodies, having 87 to take care at one time. Many of these were influenza victims at Nitro, a nearby powder plant, he said.

John W. Moores, of Waco, died on Wednesday, the 15th, after an attack of influenza and was laid to rest in the family burying ground near his home with appropriate and fitting religious ceremony conducted by Rev. Hubert Bonny, of Waco. Deceased was 61 years old age and to know him was to love and respect him for he had done many a turn, placing his own personal interest in jeopardy in order to help his neighbors and relatives along the road to success.

He is survived by two brothers, Mr. James Moores, of Newby, and Mr. G. B. Moores, of Waco, Ky., who represented Madison county in two recent sessions of the Kentucky legislature.

Deceased suffered a stroke of paralysis about nine years ago, since which time he had been confined to an invalid chair. He being unmarried, made his home for many years with Mr. G. B. ### WILSON AND GEORGE AGREE ON RUSSIA

Peace Conference To Send Delegation To Poland To Investigate—U. S. May Have Fifth Delegate

Paris, Jan. 22—The Supreme Council of the Peace Conference this morning considered the Polish question and decided to send a mission to Poland, it is officially announced. A proposal from President Wilson regarding the Russian question will be discussed this afternoon, the statement adds.

When the council met today, Marshal Foch and Rear Admiral Hope of the British admiralty board, were present. It is assumed their presence meant the Russian situation on the Baltic and on the land front was discussed.

Meanwhile according to the Paris edition of the London Daily Mail, President Wilson and Premier Lloyd-George completely agree on a settlement of the Russian question which they regard as absolutely necessary preliminary to the formation of a league of nations and they are anxious to secure the evidence of accredited Bolshevik representatives. On the status of Russian affairs, it adds, however, that French opinion is not at present in favor of inviting Bolshevik representatives to present evidence as to exactly what territorial powers they claim.

While this subject is up for consideration, the question of President Wilson naming a fifth delegate to act on the American mission when he himself departs for home, has again arisen. William Howard Taft and Elihu Root are mentioned. Wilson's decision, however, depends wholly on whether he will consider it necessary to return to Europe after adjournment of the American Congress in March. The President feels he must return to America to sign the bills passed by Congress.

Curt Jett To Be Heard On Platform Here Feb. 14

Much interest has been aroused by the announcement that Curt Jett, formerly of Breathitt county feud fame, will have a date on the lecture course at the Richmond Methodist church. He will be heard here Feb. 14th, coming over from Asbury College at Wilmore, where he is taking a ministerial course. When it was ascertained that Jett could be obtained for a lecture, Rev. M. T. Chandler, who had been programmed, willingly consented to give him his date.

Jett's subject will be "Saved by Grace." Those who have heard him say that he makes an especially fervent and strong appeal, especially to the young man, and there is no doubt but that his friends in town and the county will be glad of this opportunity to hear him.

The first number on the Methodist lecture course will be given Friday night when G. R. Combs talks on the "Folk Lore of the Kentucky Mountains."

Resolutions adopted by the Methodist Ministers Association of Cincinnati, O., April 15, 1918:—We wish to express our hearty appreciation of the lecture-recital upon "The Ballads and Songs of the Kentucky Mountains" given this morning by Rev. G. R. Combs. The unusual theme and its graphic treatment with its musical illustrations, were intensely interesting. We have received much valuable information, mingled with delightful entertainment, and we have been given an inspiring view of the possibilities of Kentucky mountain life. We wish to thank Rev. Combs for the choice hour we have enjoyed.

Rev. Combs will give the first number on the lecture course at the Methodist church Friday evening.

Federal Court Again Put Off

Judge A. M. J. Cochran, of the Eastern District of Kentucky, has announced the session of Federal Court which was to have convened here next Monday, had been postponed indefinitely. Court officials at Covington were advised that influenza was widespread in the mountain districts, and that a ban had been placed on all gatherings.

Clerk John Menzies stated that a special session of the United States Court would be held in Covington on January 29th to hear a suit for the possession of coal lands in the southeastern part of the state.

Coal Regulations Off

Chairman C. C. Wallace, of the Madison County Fuel Committee, has received notice that National Administrator Garfield has announced that all zone and price regulations on coke and coal except Pennsylvania anthracite, will be suspended February 1st. This includes mine prices, wholesalers' prices, purchasing agents' commissions, and retail margins and prices.

Opinion is divided as to the effect of the order, some consumers predicting higher prices, while others say that the release of government control and the restoration of the old control titition will have the effect of reducing prices.

Individual domestic consumers of coal must continue to obtain permission from state and local fuel administrators for carload or bargeload lots of anthracite, or broken egg, pea or smaller sizes of coal.

CORZELIUS TO RETIRE FROM GLYNDON HOTEL

Well Known Manager of Richmond To Quit April 1st After Twenty-Six Years At the Helm

After 26 years' as general manager of the Glyndon Hotel, Mr. George G. Corzelius will sever his connection with this famous hostelry on April 1st next.

Just who his successor will be has not yet been announced by the owners but it is understood that negotiations are pending with an experienced hotel man to take charge. It is said that if these negotiations are consummated, the old building is to be thoroughly renovated and improved, supplied with modern conveniences, running water, bathrooms, and in fact made one of the most complete and up-to-date hotels in any country town in Kentucky. And something that will undoubtedly be appreciated by the traveling public and citizens generally, without a doubt.

That Mr. Corzelius and his popular family may continue to make Richmond their home, is hoped by all their friends. He says that his plans are not yet fully matured. He expects to visit a brother in the south and take a long and well-earned rest first. Ever since the Glyndon was opened as a hotel he has been at the helm, and he is undoubtedly one of the best known and most experienced hotel men in this section of the country. He was associated with his father in its management for five years after it was built and for the past 21 years has been in sole charge, thus extending his actual time there to 26 years a record probably without an equal in any other hotel in the state.

The Glyndon is owned by the Richmond Hotel and Building Company a corporation locally owned, the chief stockholders of which are Messrs. Waller Benett, A. R. Burnam and R. R. Burnam.

Sad Death In Winchester

One of the saddest deaths claimed by influenza, was that of Mrs. R. M. Hurst, which occurred in Winchester Monday morning. Deceased was a resident of Richmond until about five years ago, and was greatly beloved here by a great many relatives and friends, who are deeply grieved to hear of her sudden passing away. Mrs. Hurst was a devoted member of the Methodist church, was a devoted wife and mother. Her loss in the home circle is made doubly sad from the fact that an infant, only five days old, is bereft of a mother's care. Her husband and four other children survive, also her mother, Mrs. Seale, who lives at Booneville. The remains were brought to Richmond Tuesday, and interred in the Richmond cemetery beneath a bank of the most beautiful flowers seen here in recent years. Services were conducted by Banks, pastor of the Methodist church in Winchester.

Armour On Meat Prices

Washington, Jan. 22—J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour and Company, before the Interstate Commerce Committee of the House in the hearing in connection with the bill proposing government regulation of the packing industry advocated the establishment of a central agency to control the shipment of meat animals to market. He said this would stabilize prices and prevent glutting of the market. He said, however, the supply was not the only factor in fixing market prices for live stock, which depends also upon the fluctuating demand for meat.

No Decrease In Rates

Vinton's Liberty Loan Boat Will Have Girl Sponsor

MARGARET FISCHER

NOT a very big girl, Margaret. And when she stands up alongside of a great ocean boat she will not look any bigger.

But she is going to christen a boat just the same. Vinton County, Ohio, has chosen her—Margaret Fischer of Zaleski, Ohio.—to be sponsor for the boat which that county won the right to name. Vinton County won the distinction in the last Liberty Loan campaign when it was the first county in the Cincinnati area to attain its quota in Liberty Bond sales. The county's quota was $120,500, and it had subscribed that amount at the end of the first day of the drive. Its final subscriptions totaled $158,850.

The boat is being built in one of the big government ship yards and probably will be ready for the launching in Spring.

UNCLE SAM HAS BIG APPETITE NOW FOR SAFE INVESTMENTS

BETWEEN TWENTY AND TWENTY-FIVE MILLION BOND BUYERS TAKE ELEVEN BILLION IN YEAR.

Pessimists who shake their heads and join the chorus of "I dunno" boys at the prospect of floating a Fifth Liberty Loan in April are given food for thought in some figures which have recently been compiled by officials of the Treasury Department at Washington.

The figures give us some idea of just how big an appetite for safe investment this country has attained in its war-year.

Some of the more striking of the figures referred to follow:
A bond market which had less than 300,000 customers two years ago had at the close of 1918 between 20,000,000 and 25,000,000 buyers.

The army of buyers absorbed $11,165,565,850 worth of bonds in Liberty Bonds alone in 1918.

In the two years of the war—counting the first and second Liberty Loans which were floated in 1917—these bond buyers digested a total of $16,974,329,850 Liberty Bonds.

A further development which has the optimistic turn is the market which bond dealers find right now for every sort of bonds—municipal, school, industrial, etc. Bond dealers are selling out all legitimate offerings with such celerity that they are continually seeking about the country for new issues to market.

This healthy condition of the bond market is explained, perhaps, by the fact that the entire indebtedness of the United States today amounts to slightly less than 7 per cent of the estimated national wealth. The national debt amounts to only about $170 per capita.

Some of the national debts are: Great Britain, 44.3 per cent of national wealth or $360 per capita; France, 41.25 per cent of national wealth or $296.90 per capita; Austria, 84.66 per cent of national wealth or $242.90 per capita; and Germany, 38.7 per cent of national wealth or $305.90 per capita. These figures on Germany are exclusive of the ninth war loan, accurate returns of which never were had, and in the cases of both Austria and Germany no account is taken of any indemnities which those nations may have to pay.

Japan is the only big nation which has a lower per capita debt in relation to its wealth than the United States.

STATE SERVICE FLAG

A large service flag containing 135 stars and one large gold star has been placed in his office by Major Henry F. Rhodes, Chief of the Selective Service Department. The 135 blue stars stand for the local draft boards and represent 66,500 Kentuckians drafted into the army. The large gold star in the center is "In memory of the Selective Service men who have sacrificed their lives in the world war." Although the casualty list has not been completed to date Major Rhodes is of the opinion that Kentucky will have between 1,800 and 2,000 men on the Honor Roll.

YANK SOLDIERS ROBBED BY FOE

Men Captured at Seicheprey Tell of Harsh Treatment by the Huns.

REFUSED TO BE BROTHERS

Attempt Later Made to Effect Reconciliation Spurned by Americans—Corporal Who Refused to Work Hurled Down Mine Shaft.

London—"When they took us prisoners they held revolvers to our heads and made us give them our shoes, but when the armistice came and we were set free a socialist leader made a speech to us, saying: 'We are now brothers.'"

This was what American soldiers who returned to London from Germany—the first to reach here after the signing of the armistice—had to say about the change in the attitude of their captors from the time they had fallen into German hands in April until they were released on November 12.

"When we were captured at Seicheprey," said Private James E. Pritchett of Providence, "the German soldiers held pistols to the heads of some of us and demanded our shoes. I managed to hang on to mine, but others weren't so lucky. They had to walk barefooted through No Man's Land, cutting their feet badly on barbed wire or pieces of shell. All of us had to walk 30 miles to the rear, where wooden shoes were given us, and no one was permitted to keep his boots. They told us—one general did—that they had attacked to get prisoners, but the next time they attacked the One Hundred and Second they would take no prisoners, because they had fought too fiercely."

This was corroborated by Private Frank Butler of New Haven.

Prisoners Exhibited. The Americans were eventually taken to Friedrichsfeldt, and no opportunity was missed to show the American prisoners to the populace, for they were among the earliest to be taken.

These Americans were taken to a camp where there were prisoners from all the other allied countries, and though there afterward seemed to be an attempt to single out Americans for better treatment, according to the returned men now here, they fared much the same as the others during the earlier part of their imprisonment. Until their own food parcels began to arrive they got considerable food from the generous British and other allied compatriots.

More than 30 were detailed to work in coal and salt mines, and one man, Corporal Lucien, who, it was said, refused to work in a mine when ordered to do so, was marched off to the pit head and given another chance to decide what he would do by the two Prussian guards who had him in charge. When he again stoutly refused, saying he was not required, as an under officer, to do so, he was thrown down the shaft and killed. The burial was witnessed, his comrades said, by a British sailor, who told about it on the following day.

Eventually the Americans were taken to the prison camp at Opladen. For their work they got six cents a day.

In Memory of a Faithful Soldier

Neatly framed and hanging upon the wall of the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Brewer, of Ford's Ferry, Ky., is the treasured official commission and the Bronze Badge of Honor in the U. S. Boys' Working Reserve of their dead son, William Brewer. When the call came a year ago for all boys in Kentucky between the ages of 16 and 21 to enlist in the great reserve army to back the boys in the trenches by service on the farms, William Brewer was one of the first to respond. He worked faithfully during the summer on his father's farm and then in the fall when the harvest had been gathered, he entered a munitions factory in Michigan. While there he was stricken and died and his body was sent back to the old home in Kentucky for burial. The Bronze Badge of Honor was sent to his parents from the State office of the reserve in Louisville in memory of a faithful soldier who performed a patriotic service for his country.

Now, although peace has come, there is a call for service in 1919 to help feed the starving millions of Europe. Enrollment Week is the week of January 20-26, and all boys in Kentucky between the ages of 16 and 21 years are urged to enroll for vacation work on the farms. Boys of these ages who work on the farms of their parents or neighbors are entitled to enroll and receive the rewards of service. Attractive posters have been sent out by government officials in Washington to all high schools, libraries, postoffices, railroad stations, Y. M. C. A. buildings, government employment offices, etc., advertising Enrollment Week.

Flu Fatal Near Lowell

A Mr. Plummer, near Lowell, died of pneumonia, following influenza, Monday after a short illness. His wife and eight little children survive. The oldest is about 12 or 14 years old and the family is said to be in destitute circumstances.

A six-months-old child of Mr. Cornett, living near Lowell, also died of influenza.

Beloved Woman Dies.

Mrs. J. W. Woods, a former Madison county woman, died at her home near Butler, Ky. She was born March 12, 1879, and died January 19, 1919, from influenza and pneumonia. Mrs. Woods was before her marriage Miss Bertha Gentry Powell, daughter of James and Susan Powell, who preceded her to the grave several years ago. She was married March 21st, 1901, to James Woods. Mrs. Woods was 39 years, 10 months and 6 days old. She leaves her husband and six small children to battle through this old world without mother love and care. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. J. W. Hord, of Speedwell, and a number of nieces and nephews to mourn the loss of their dear loved one. They have the deepest sympathy of their many friends.

Mrs. Woods was a devout member of the Baptist church. She gave her whole heart and life to God and in His keeping when she was young at the Lexington Baptist church. She will be laid to rest in the Odd Fellows' cemetery at Butler, Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Deep and heartfelt sympathy is extended to this bereaved family.

PICK THE WINNERS.

The man who feeds or buys cattle must of necessity learn to be a good judge of cattle. He is always striving to pick the winners, those animals which feed out best. Do you know a real good steer when you see him? Can you pick the winners? If you can't, just pack some duds in your grip and go to Lexington during Farmers' Week and learn exactly how the trick is turned. Mr. T. G. Patterson, the manager of Hereford Farms, near Versailles, is going to conduct a judging contest of beef cattle on Friday, January 31st. Besides this feature, there will be a number of talks by men who know the feeding and breeding business.

HAVE A BITE OF ALFALFA.

Unfortunately a rumor became current that the alfalfa show which is to be held at the University of Kentucky during Farmers' Week, January 28th to 31st, had been called off. This confusion probably arose from the fact that the Kentucky Corn Growers' Association decided not to hold a competitive show this year in connection with their annual convention which is held at the University as a part of the Farmers' Week exercises. The alfalfa growers, however, will not only hold their annual convention but will also have their annual show of sheaves and bales of alfalfa. Besides a very attractive premium list, has been provided. A unique alfalfa dinner will be served free with the food prepared from alfalfa products. It will be worth a trip to Lexington to learn how palatable alfalfa can be made and in how many ways it can be prepared for use as human food.
